Sharing is Caring

Happiness comes due to sharing, once you share something with others, and automatically you find a way to joy and inner satisfaction. One of the universal truths is that "Happiness flourishes by Sharing".

It is important to care and Share. It is important because tons of people deserve things they can't get. The people who are caring learn a good lesson. That is why we chose SHARING IS CARING to be our theme for the first term.

"Sharing is caring" is not just a theme for our school year term, but it's a great moral which we try to embed deeply in our students.

Our children learnt how to share their belongings, their feelings, and even their experiences, through different kinds of activities which they did during all their lessons. They celebrated the Friendship Day, and the camp day which was a good application for sharing during their games.

Our Great Festival

Al Hoda Parents and teachers embraced a day of enthusiasm, love and fun.

The day was a display of great work done by teachers and students through the whole term, enriched by activities, competitions, expeditions, and shows

Tablets Room

The opening of Alhoda Azhar Tablet Room has been a blast this year. Students and teachers have both enjoyed working on the tablets. They have utilized multiple applications and websites like Kahoot, Oxford E-books, Tiny Tap, Near Pod, Puppet Pal and others. Undoubtedly, our students have acquired tangible digital skills through their ongoing communication using the tablets in various sessions.

Reading Programme

As always in Alhoda Schools, craving for innovation has been a daunting objective every year, particularly in the English Department this year.

We have thankfully launched a new reading programme that mainly relies on the use of digital books. That is to say, students read books on tablets and do activities on them in the tablet room every week.

Undoubtedly, the students have been enjoying the weekly reading on tablets best. Needless to say, they haven't abandoned printed books by any means, but they have merely been exposed to reading in a more engaging way.

To add, taking part in "Alhoda Readathon" has been so much fun, too. Many students enjoyed filling their logs with school & home readings on weekly basis. And Winners were awarded within our festival program.

Kg Section

It was a fruitful term for our students in the KG section; they were excited to learn about different topics.

The students were engaged in different activities to better understand and practice different morals such as responsibility, eating manners, being positive, gratitude, respecting others and cooperation..

Moreover, field trips and events activities were carefully selected to reinforce the students' learning.

Don Don Park served the responsibility moral .

while, Kidzania gave the students the chance to perform their dream job.

The students had lots of fun on their keeping fit day.

English, Arabic and activity teachers collaborated together to integrate different curriculums .

Camping Days

Believing that outdoor adventures and challenges have a positive impact on children's education.

Once again this year came AlHoda Camping Days for primary 1 to six.
